

NEW AMERICAN RECORD MADE BY PARMALÉE

IN WRIGHT BIPLANE, REMAINED
IN AIR 3 HOURS, 39 MIN-
UTES AND 49 4-5
SECONDS.

GIVEN GREAT OVATION WHEN HE DESCENDED

Mme. Tetrazzini Was Special Guest at San Francisco Aviation Meet
Yesterday—Eugene B. Ely
Given a Gold Medal.

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—San Francisco's aviation meet produced an American endurance record today when Phillip O. Parmelee, piloting a Wright biplane, remained in the air for 3 hours, 39 minutes and 49 4-5 seconds.

The best previous endurance performance was that of A. L. Welch, at St. Louis, who established a record of 3 hours, 11 minutes and 55 seconds. At Los Angeles the late Arch Hoxsey was credited with an unofficial record of 3 hours and 17 minutes.

A crowd of more than 25,000 people cheered the birdman as he circled about them, and when he descended he was given an ovation. Several enthusiasts, among them Eugene B. Ely, hoisted Parmelee on their shoulders and carried him in triumph to a stand in the middle of Selfridge Field. General Trasher H. Bliss, other army officers and a host of ladies, extended congratulations.

"I could have remained up longer," said Parmelee, "but my seat grew so hard and my hands and feet so numb with cold that I decided to come down, after beating the American record."

The long flight was uneventful. Ely is lionized.

Ely, the daring aviator, who landed on the deck of the cruiser Pennsylvania last Thursday, was lionized by the army and navy today. With Major J. C. O'Neil, in command of the field, and Captain Pond, of the Pennsylvania, Ely reviewed the troops of the second battalion of the 36th infantry, and a detachment of the blue jackets from the war ship. Then followed the presentation to the aviator of a gold medal by the army.

Immediately after this ceremony Ely went up in his biplane to deliver, on behalf of the aviation committee, an invitation to Madame Louise Tetrazzini, the opera singer, to attend the meeting.

Mme. Tetrazzini, according to a pre-arranged plan, was waiting in an automobile at the Ingleside Golf Links, about five miles north of the aviation grounds.

It was Ely's intention to act as an aerial escort to the diva for the rest of the journey to Selfridge Field, but, after reascending, the aviator lost her automobile in the crush of other machines on the road. The birdman was waiting for her at the gates, however, and when she drove up he escorted her to a gaily decorated box in the center of the grandstand, where she was welcomed formally by the aviation officials.

M'CURDY SELECTS LANDING.

Havana, Jan. 22.—J. C. A. McCurdy, who is to make a flight from Key West to Havana, today inspected the parade grounds and polo field at Camp Columbia, and decided that the polo field was an ideal spot to make a landing.

He will depart tomorrow for Key West, and it is his present intention to start Tuesday morning on his aerial voyage to Cuba. He expects to make the flight in two hours, and will circle Moro Castle, and then follow the line of the Malecon Drive along the shore to the camp.

GOOD PASSENGER FLIGHT.

Mourmelon, France, Jan. 22.—Henry Walman made a brilliant aeroplane flight today with two passengers. He flew across country to Rheims and returned, a distance of about 37 miles, in one hour.

J. P. MORGAN SUED BY CLERK WHO WANTS LAND

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 22.—A writ filed at the town clerk's office today gives notice of suit brought against J. P. Morgan and Clarence L. Barber of New York, in which the allegation is made that Mr. Morgan did not live up to his agreement in incorporating the International Company of Mexico. Attachment is recorded upon 34,779 shares of stock of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, standing in Mr. Morgan's name. In the complaint Barber alleges that he did not receive certain lands which were to come to him by agreement.

STATE SENATORS ARE "EXILED"

GINIA LEGISLATURE—WENT TO CINCINNATI.

MAY STAY INDEFINITELY

Efforts of J. H. Chilton to Induce
Them to Return Said to Have Failed—Has Effect on U. S. Senatorship.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 22.—The mission to Cincinnati undertaken by Joseph H. Chilton, a brother of Wm. E. Chilton, recently chosen by the Democrats for the long term senatorship, in which he was to offer terms to the fifteen self-styled exiled Republican state senators, has failed, according to advices received here tonight. Governor Glasscock, it appears, must say the work before the Republicans will return to West Virginia.

NO PLANS PENDING.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 22.—If any proposition is pending between the Republican and Democratic leaders at Charleston regarding the possible return from Cincinnati of the fifteen Republican senators, who fled several days ago, Governor Glasscock, representing the Republicans, and W. E. Chilton and State Senator Kidd, a Democrat, deny any knowledge of it.

REMAIN INDEFINITELY.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 22.—After dining this evening at the home of Charles P. Taft, brother of President Taft, the fifteen West Virginia Republican members of the state senate returned to the Hotel Sinton and announced that so far as they knew now they will remain here indefinitely. Senator Meridith, speaking for himself and his associates, said that while he and his colleagues have been in communication with Democratic leaders at Charleston today, none of the proposals made by the latter looking to the return of the fifteen "voluntary exiles" had been accepted.

FORTUNE TO WAITRESS

Pennsylvania Civil Engineer Makes Good His Promise of Big "Tip" to Young Woman.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Mrs. Rachael M. Osborne, a former waitress, is heir today to two-thirds of a $100,000 estate left by Joseph P. Morris, a civil engineer of Wellsboro Pa., who had an office in this city several years ago, and who took his meals in the restaurant where Mrs. Osborne, then Miss Doughty, waited.

Mary Thilston, the daughter of a nurse in the Hudson State Hospital for the Insane, from which Morris was once discharged as cured, was left the remainder of the estate. About two years ago Morris, left Poughkeepsie. A year later Rachael Doughty and Albert Osborne were married. A few months ago Mrs. Osborne received a letter from her erstwhile admirer, in which he said he had made his "final will and you are to have the bulk of my property. Mary Thilston, a poor little orphan, is to have the rest. You see, I have not forgotten you."

Mrs. Osborne did not know exactly what to think of the letter. A letter to the local chief of police from a Wellsboro lawyer told of the death of Morris. The young woman said today she had thought Morris was joking. Morris inherited his property from his father, a mining engineer.

BODY CUT TO SHREDS

One Man Held as Suspect in Connection
With Another's Death—
Tragedy in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 22.—Picked to shreds apparently by a knife or similar weapon and disfigured almost beyond identification, the body of Geo. Washington Hall, a contractor, was found inside the storm door of his residence on Easton avenue, today.

Hall, who had been missing from his home since early last night, was known to have carried a large amount of money, but when his body was found his pockets were searched and only a five cent piece was found.

Joseph Murphy, who had been seen in company with Hall, is being held as a suspect.

NO PROSPECTS EXTRA SESSION

GRESS OPINE THINGS RUN-NING SMOOTHLY.

CALENDARS CONGESTED

But Not as Badly as in the Short Session Two Years Ago—Still,
There Is Some Extra Session Gossip.

Washington, Jan. 22.—When Republican leaders in congress were asked tonight if there is likely to be an extra session because of the congested condition of the calendars in both branches of the national legislature, they invariably answered in the negative.

They insist, in spite of the extra session gossip, that the present session is not jammed any more than

Christian Scientist Cole to be Tried in New York Jan. 26—Practicing Medicine

New York, Jan. 22.—The arrest of Willis Vernon Cole, Christian Science practitioner, on complaint of a woman detective connected with police headquarters on a charge of practicing medicine without a license has caused a sensation here, and his trial, set for Jan. 26, will decide the present legal status of Christian Science in New York state. "I have no personal feeling against those who caused my arrest," says Mr. Cole. "I do not think that there was any personal element in it. I am inclined to think that it was an attack on the cause, instigated by the County Medical society and carried out by the police as a matter of routine. If this is true and this last attack on us results in vindicating the Christian Science practitioners in their duty of practicing I shall feel that all the annoyance and discomfort of it has been amply repaid. I have not a shadow of doubt that it will so result. This is not the only attack of the kind that has been made, but it is the latest and will result like the others. Of course you know that there is a state law and a special clause of that law allowing persons to practice healing when the practice is one of the tenets of their religion. The church is no longer weak in this community. No one who had looked into the matter could think for a minute that a great body of people living here peacefully and lawfully and lovingly among their neighbors could be prohibited from practicing their tenets, as this attack seems to point to an attempt to do. I suppose that there are now over 100 practitioners in this city and back of them are many, many people. Furthermore, I have never known any attack upon the word of God to result in a serious setback, and this one will not."

was the short session two years ago so far as the appropriation bills are concerned. Already the house has passed the Indian, rivers and harbors, pensions legislative, urgent deficiency bill, and army appropriation bills, and is nearly through with the postoffice bill. Two years ago the house had passed only the pensions, legislative, District of Columbia and naval bills in the same time.

It is true that the senate has passed only the urgent deficiency bill, but two years ago only the legislative bill had been passed. Senate leaders are not disturbed by the situation. Two years ago 13 straight appropriation bills were passed in the last four weeks of the session, and Republican leaders say what has been done can be done again.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The report that the "Hornet," General Bonilla's revolutionary gunboat, which has been promoting his cause along the coast of Honduras, has been boarded by a force of men from the American gunboat Tacoma, was confirmed today in a dispatch received by the navy department.

STATEMENT BY DIX'S FRIEND

SAYS ALL DEMOCRATS SHOULD SUPPORT CAUCUS SEN-ATORIAL NOMINEE.

Hudson Falls, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Winfield A. Huppach, chairman of the Democratic state committee, and a business associate of Governor Dix, issued a statement tonight on the senatorial situation. He said in part: "The caucus being the recognized usage of all parties from times immemorial there should be no question of it being the duty of all assemblymen and state senators, elected on the Democratic ticket, to abide by its result, and vote for the senatorial candidate of the overwhelming majority. Most assuredly, should either of the other candidates voted for at the caucus have secured a majority of its vote, their followers would have undoubtedly have insisted upon such candidate's undivided support."

STATEMENT IMPORTANT.

New York, Jan. 22.—Democrats gathered here from all parts of the state tonight agreed that the statement of Chairman Huppach is perhaps the most important made from any source since the party went into a deadlock over the choice of a United States senator. The leaders were not surprised. In fact, they let it be understood that they had expected such a pronouncement since last Friday, but no one cared to speculate on its effect.

FIGHT IN NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 22.—The contest over the United States senatorship in New Jersey will be on in full force tomorrow, when the Democratic members of the legislature will hold a conference in an effort to settle the matter.

COLORADO WILL DEADLOCK.

Denver, Jan. 22.—As the day approaches for the first ballot for a United States senator to succeed the late Charles J. Hughes, Jr., supporters of Mayor Robert W. Spear, of Denver, and of former Governor Alva Adams, of Pueblo, are exerting every effort to show their favorite's strength. A prolonged deadlock now seems certain.

WRIGHT NOT CANDIDATE.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 22.—Reports coming from Memphis tonight, backed by rumors about here, led to the belief that General Luke E. Wright, former secretary of war, has decided not to enter for the United States senatorship, as has been expected. When the news came that General Wright had not left Memphis for Nashville, there was more or less tightening of the senatorial situation.

Crime May be Connected With Death of Boy, Whose Frozen Feet Were Amputated.

Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 22.—Three year old Kaurt Stehr died this afternoon from the effects of the amputation of both his feet last Thursday. The feet had been frozen several weeks previously, and were in a decomposed condition when a physician was called. It is alleged that the child slept nightly in an unheated woodshed during the coldest weather. Henry Stehr, the child's stepfather, is in jail, awaiting an investigation of the case.

LEWIS CLAIMS ELECTION

His Foes Declare Him Beaten By
40,000—Contest Over Calling
Strike in Pennsylvania
Will be Fierce.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 22.—Information was received in Columbus tonight that the tellers counting the referendum submitted to the United Mine Workers of America on officers for the year commencing April 1, had finished their work at Indianapolis, and they would be ready to announce the result to the convention either tomorrow or Tuesday. George Hargrave, of Terre Haute, Indiana, one of the official watchers of the count, arrived here tonight.

At tomorrow's session of the convention, the seating of locals 150, 164, 362, 330, 980, 935, 987, 1493 and 1633, of district number two, while it was warmly contested yesterday, will be fought out on the floor of the convention, following which the credentials committee will report on the contest over the seating of William Green, delegate from an Ohio local and president pro tem of the Ohio state senate.

A roll call will be had upon both these cases.

The Lewis men declare that President Thomas L. Lewis has been re-elected by at least 10,000, and the friends of John White, of Oskaloosa, Iowa claim he has been elected by 40,000.

The contests before the credentials committee have delayed the work of the convention. Predictions today were that it will not complete its work before the middle or last of next week.

One of the interesting fights will be over the calling of a general strike in the Irwin coal fields of Pennsylvania.

Lewis forces will object to such action, which is demanded by the foes of the president.

Complaints, which will not come before the convention, has been made to President Lewis by delegates from Montana and Washington that operators of these states are breaking wage scale contracts.

Thomas Burke, former international board member from Illinois, and now a representative of the operators of Montana and Washington, is here to confer with President Lewis regarding the situation.

ST. LOUIS MEN BOWLING WELL

FIVE MEN EVENTS LAST NIGHT—OUTSIDERS START
ROLLING TODAY.

St. Louis, Jan. 22.—With a score of 2718 the Duffy, of St. Louis, holders of the middleweight championship, featured the bowling on the second day of the eleventh annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress here tonight.

The performance of George Qualey, holder of the world's record of 279 pins for a single game, stood out prominently. He finished the first game with a score of 245, making six successive strikes and rolled the three games with a high total of 534. The palace delint landed the second high score, with 2695, while the Witter-Monroes were third, with 2670. The teams are all from St. Louis.

Harry Stoltz, of St. Louis, led the individuals with a score of 607 in the afternoon series.

Visiting bowlers from Chicago, Dayton, Cincinnati and Memphis will compete with the Missourians tomorrow night.

HOT OLD TIME IN OLD DANVILLE

VOTE SELLING PROBE TO START IN EARNEST THIS WEEK—
MANY ARE CITED.

Danville, Ill., Jan. 22.—Vote traffickers in Vermillion county, Illinois, the home of Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, are facing a situation brought about by a misunderstanding, but which has the possibility of duplicating the conditions in Adams county, Ohio.

Judge E. R. Kimbrough charged the grand jury a week ago that "now was as good a time to clean up the political atmosphere in which the county has lived as any other."

The misunderstanding which brought about the crisis came from a published statement purporting to be a "confession" from City Attorney Frank W. Jones, of Danville, that he had bought votes to elect Sheriff John T. Shepard, and the subsequent denial of such an alleged confession. City Attorney Jones issued his first official statement today. He said: "The newspaper stories concerning an alleged confession purporting to have been made by me, in which it is claimed that I purchased votes for John T. Shepard, now sheriff of this county, at the recent November election are absolutely false."

"No such statement was made by me to any one, nor have any of my friends, political or otherwise, advised me to pursue such a course. There is no confession to make. These newspaper stories are the product of the fertile imaginations of newspaper correspondents, who are ever seeking the sensational."

Judge Kimbrough said: "I have always left the grand jury to themselves. If they wish further instructions I will give it to them, but what my action will be if a situation develops here similar to that in Adams county, Ohio, I cannot discuss at this time."

The fuse to the bomb was lighted yesterday when an immunity bath was offered vote buyers. In line with this method of procedure, Circuit Judge E. N. E. Kimbrough will hold the city election law unconstitutional.

Start Ball Rolling.
The real ball was started rolling following the issuance of more than one hundred subpoenas Friday by the grand jury. One was for Pete Sanichas, a Greek cannery store proprietor, who managed the Republican campaign in Westville, a mining town of 8,000 inhabitants, where the frauds were scandalous. Sanichas openly declares he will tell everything he knows.

City Attorney Frank W. Jones, one of the campaign managers of Sheriff John T. Shepard, who rumor said had confessed, today acknowledged he had a list of ward workers and was ready and willing to go before the grand jury. He denied, however, having been before the inquisitors.

"Politics is rotten here and it will be easy to uncover this scandal," he said. "I am willing to go before the grand jury and tell what I know. There are a hundred others who will do the same thing."

Tells How to Get Facts.
"If the grand jury wants to get to the bottom of this affair all they have to do is to call in the candidates in the last election and demand their lists of ward captains and precinct workers. These workers will be able to tell every man whose vote was bought. There are seven wards and about twenty-eight precincts in Danville. It is in the city where the rottenness lies."

"I openly acknowledge having a list of workers in my ward. If the grand jury wants it they can subpoena me. The sooner the elections are purified the better off the politicians will be."

While a number of politicians are coming out in the open with their declarations, a score of others have secretly told Isaac Woodyard, foreman of the grand jury, and State Attorney John Lowman they were ready to testify.

With the indictment of a hundred or so vote sellers, it is generally conceded that the confusion mill in Judge Kimbrough's chambers would start grinding its gear. In all it is charged more than 3,500 Vermillion county residents would have a much clearer conscience after a trip to the courthouse.

While the immunity bath has been offered to vote buyers, the end is not in sight. Threats of inquiring into elections dating back three years ago on a conspiracy charge have been made. Under the general election law and primary law the crime of vote selling is a felony.
